muth1438 It is because of people like my father that our husband's need to write out their wills in their early 20's. Our devotion is real and we are not crazy outcast as the media says, We love and hate what Allah loves and hates. So if Allah hates those that rule by other than Him than I hate them too, so I hate my father, because I love Allah and i love everything Allah loves and hate everything Allah hates. The whole world doesn't seem to understand that simple equation. The fact that we don't love, or even like this world or anything in it. And we are hastening to the Next. We've given up everything to live in harsh conditions for Allah's sake, why? Simply because it's the only place we as Muslims are allowed to live in. Syria is ugly I'm not going to lie. But we are here only for Allah and we pray for patience and perseverance and we are willing to give everything even our lives for His sake. We are in the most dangerous place in the world, yet this is the most safest place to reside and you find the most content people on the globe. We thank you Allah for choosing us and trying us with trials for this only increases us in reward, patience and revenge.
